ABSTRACT

Puspa Sari. SID. 17010106011. EFL Students' Challenges of Online Learning During Covid-19. Supervised by: Isna Humaera, S.Ag., S.Pd., M.Pd

This study aims to identify student challenges during online learning in the EFL classroom during the COVID-19 pandemic. Data was collected using reflection of 22 students of the English education department. Data were analyzed qualitatively based on the steps proposed by Crewswell (2012) and Michael & Miles (1994). This lesson revealed that the most basic challenge is the poor network and also noise in the surrounding environment which makes students unable to concentrate, so it is difficult to understand the material given by the lecturer during Zoom. This will provide information to the lecturer and universities to consider more when studying online in the future.
